Sagres Visits Port

Fore and aft, the trim lines of the square-rigger Sagres form a symmetry of line that is beautiful. The geometry of the sailing ship has never been equalled as a sight to delight the eye and heart. It is the purest machine ever invented by mankind. The Sagres embodies the ancient skills of the sailing man, gained over centuries, to train its officers to follow the sea.

Savings with a smile

Depositors saved more money last year in Mutual Savings Banks than anywhere else. Your savings in turn, became the source of loans to businesses and individuals in your community, helping to bring more jobs and better services to you.

All this activity enables Fairhaven Savings, a Mutual Savings Bank, to pay the highest interest allowed by law on your savings. Higher interest means your money is working harder for you. Along with all this goes the security of knowing that your deposits are insured in full by law. Save at Fairhaven Savings where your money does more for you.

"Cranberry" gets the word from chairlady Mrs. Kjeld Jensen that the Mattapoisett Woman's Club's Family Fun Fair on August 5 will be held rain or shine. A headliner at the event, the raccoon, pet of the Karl Touraines of Rochester, looks forward to meeting the youngsters who will find games, cotton candy, toys, hot dogs and other goodies under the striped awnings that will dot the Center School grounds or gymnasium (in case of rain). A bookstall, attic treasures and a food table will attract the attention of the moms, dads and grandparents too. It all begins at 11 o'clock in the morning and comes to an end at 4 in the afternoon. JULY SENIOR SERIES

The Senior Series at the Mattapoisett Yacht Club wound up its July schedule on Saturday, July 22nd, with 16 boats competing in two classes (doubleheaders for both). Billy Mee, Norman Shachoy, Joan Darrah and Susan McGowan were the victors.

Clear, sunny skies were indeed a welcome change, but a wind shifting from E. to SW often proved an uncertain factor.

In their initial contest, the Corinthians followed a triangular course to Strawberry Point MYC guide buoy, to Mattapoisett Ledge Black Can 1, and finish at Ned's Quest.

In the second Corinthian race it was quite a different story. This time the two top contenders exchanged positions, Blue Chip finishing by a good 03:19 margin. Also, Donald Desautel moved up to the third spot.

The 12 Beetle Cats in their first race sailed a go and return course to Strawberry Point MYC guide buoy and back to Ned's Point.

Jimmy Barnes in Gay Lee Ann II and Harvey Pentleton in Swamp Fox were well on their way when the ever fickle wind intervened. Three-fourths of the way to the Strawberry Point marker, Kevin O'Leary, Joan Darrah and Mason Smith, tacking over to the middle of the harbor, succeeded in catching the wind shift before the rest of the fleet did. They continued out front in this formation until the last half of the home stretch. Then Joan Darrah's Duke edged ahead of Kevin O'Leary's San Kat to win by 12 seconds and Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox passed Mason Smith's #B25 to move into third place.

Beginning with a very aggressive start in which several boats were recalled and several others were fouled, the second Beetle Cat contest continued its competitive trend, the line-up changing mark by mark. First it was Susan McGowan in the lead with Joan Darrah and Harvey Pentleton astern. Then Swamp Fox shifted from third to first, replacing Hep Cat.

 Soon, however, Hep Cat, not to be denied, worked up into second, causing Duke to drop behind. It was on the last leg, though, that the action really took a turnabout. Swamp Fox fouled the marker and in re-rounding it fouled Hep Cat, so withdrew, thus putting Hep Cat in first place. In the meantime David Jenney's Ariel and Mason Smith's #B25 had begun to gain, eventually winning second and third by margins of 01:09 and 01:17.

The course for both the Corinthian second race and the Beetle Cat second race was the same: to Mattapoisett Neck MYC guide buoy, to Crescent Beach MYC guide buoy, to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6 and finish at Ned's Point.

pering Gay Lee Ann II sailed a close race with Jimmy Broadwater's Agamemnon, followed by Phil McCarthy in Wolf.

Again, getting off to an excellent start, Meredith Barnes repeated her win, defeating Phil McCarthy by a margin of 05:59. Carol McCarthy in Blue Cloud earned third place.

The second race, like most Junior events, saw much action - in this case, tacking duels on the upwind leg with consequent port-starboard collisions and 4 withdrawals.

Council on Aging

Acting under an article approved at the Town Meeting last spring creating a Council on Aging the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen appointed the following committee: Charles A. Adams, Ned's Point Road; Mrs. Sophie A. Sterling, 83 North Street; Rev. Donald H. Finley, 29 Hammond Street, with terms expiring May 1975; Thomas Earle, Jr., Aucoot Road; Lenora P. DeCoffe, 61 North Street; Rev. Francis Gillespie, SS.CC., Barstow Street, with terms expiring May 1974; and Mrs. Gloria Rounds, 77 Marion Road; James E. Barrett, Center Drive; Clarence G. Verdi, Ocean Drive; Mrs. Hazel B. Sylvia, 9 Pearl Street; and Mrs. Katherine G. Abrams, Fairhaven Road, with terms expiring May 1973. The Council on Aging is a permanent committee of the Town acting under the Board of Selectmen. It will act for all of the aging people of the Town.

On Tuesday, July 18th, at the Town Hall the Council on Aging held its first meeting at which officers were elected as provided in "Design for Action Manual for Councils on Aging" 1971 prepared by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Charles A. Adams was named chairman, Mrs. Sophie A. Sterling, vice-chairman; James E. Barrett, treasurer; and Thomas Earle, Jr., secretary. There followed a general discussion of the purposes and duties of the Council, which would help all of the "aging" people of Mattapoisett in all possible ways. It was emphasized that the Council on Aging is for all the older people of the town and is not connected with the Senior Citizens' Club of Mattapoisett. It was the consensus of the meeting that the most pressing need is identification cards and to provide a "drop-in center". The Council is also making a study of the questionnaires returned to the committee which made a survey of the aging in Mattapoisett last year. In this connection Rev. Francis Gillespie wishes to thank the members of the committee that last year studied the needs of the aging for the especially fine service which they performed.

The Council plans to hold its next meeting on August 1st.

Letter to The Editor

The statement released by the Mattapoisett School Committee regarding the appointment of two principals is an affront to the voters of Mattapoisett. Several have voiced opposition to the proposal without the slightest recognition. As reported in Presto, Mrs. Blanche Perry and Paul Alves agreed to reconsider the decision in an open meeting with Selectmen. At a candidate's meeting last March Mrs. Perry gave an affirmative answer to a question posed by Selectman Haley which in essence queried the candidate's fortitude in facing the ever expanding power of the Superintendent. Until such time as our elected officials fully adhere to the oath of office and until such time as we voters express our displeasure with purely personal decisions, school committee decisions will be worthless.

The supposed insignificant cost could well be a factor in their decision but I deplore our taxes being regarded as insignificant. Also, it is too much a precedent setting type action. Next year's budget could include an assistant for each category, who knows? The fact that John Moynihan was not consulted, informed, in fact ignored is demoralizing for any teacher.

Left photo shows the rural mailbox at 14 Marion Road, Mattapoisett, blown completely apart by a local vandal. The metal mailbox was demolished by a cherry bomb with such force that the largest piece was hurled across the road. Police are investigating the incident which occurred at 10 in the evening in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Sylvia, Marion Road. Cherry bombs have been fired repeatedly in the neighborhood recently causing much annoyance, but this incident goes far beyond a prank. It is a serious Federal offense.

Educate a Burglar - AND PROTECT YOUR HOME

Today's burglar is often a cool, resourceful professional. It is on record that on a quiet afternoon thieves will park a van in a suburban driveway while the housewife is out shopping and load up the valuables in the house.....TV, typewriter, stereo players and more traditional targets of burglars such as jewelry and cash, Skilled, daring thieves like this are hard to stop...but there is help and hope for the householder through Operation Identification, according to the Consumers Insurance Information Bureau.

And householders and small businessmen do need help. Latest FBI statistics show there were over two million burglaries in 1970, up 72 per cent over 1965. The 1970 property losses of $672 million were even more painful because of the low percentage of the loot recovered, most of which could not be returned because police couldn't find the owners.

Operation Identification is a burglar's education program to protect the consumer. First you provide positive identification of your valuables by etching with an engraving pencil; second you place stickers on your windows and doors telling would-be burglars your property is marked for Operation Identification; and, finally, the burglars are educated by the publicity campaign sparked by the National Association of Insurance Agents' public service agency, the Consumers Insurance Information Bureau.

The most approachable experts on the behavior of burglars, police departments, assure us that burglars do read newspapers, watch TV (on stolen sets?) and listen to radios. So the task is to convince them that an Operation Identification home is a bad risk for them.

If they do plunder an Operation Identification house, they'll have trouble because marked property is too hot. If the thief or the fence is caught with the loot, he'll have a hard time explaining

it. The police can check with a phone call to find the rightful owner.

This program does work. It has proven itself in Monterey Park, California, where it was originated by Police Chief Everett Holladay in 1963. When the program started, about one-half of the 11,000 homes in the community joined Operation Identification. Since then, only 23 homes in the identification program were burgled while the other, non-participating half, reported 2,000 break-ins.

Other communities with property identification programs reported similar results. In Saginaw, Michigan, police recovered skis, binoculars and a guitar stolen from a summer cottage even before the owners knew that the place had been rifled. The thief had abandoned the marked loot, realizing he wouldn't be able to unload it because of the statewide Operation Identification program launched by the Independent Insurance Agents of Michigan early in 1971. There were 306 burglaries reported in Saginaw in 1971, but not one in an Operation Identification house.

Identification programs use the individual's permanent driver's license number to mark property.
